How To Read Your New AMI Meter

The number displayed before the letters KWh shows how many kilowatt-hours or units that has passed through the meter since it was installed.

There are 4 displays shown on your AMI meters' screen. Each display lasts for 6 seconds, then the cycle repeats again. By looking at the letters on the right hand side of the screen you can tell what screen you are in.

Screen 2 which tells the present kilowatt-hour reading has the letters KWh in the right hand side of the screen.
